A Delightful Occasion.

Sunday and Monday, January 22nd, and 23rd, were "red letter days" for the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Manning—Mrs. Helen Bullock of Elmira, N. Y. was with us. Mrs. Bullock is a remarkable woman, of fine mental ability, cultured, and traveled both in America and Europe where she has made a close study of social conditions, especially along the line of the use of intoxicants. Her well preserved physique, and her powers of endurance are wonderful, she seems to have learned the secret of perpetual youth. It would be a surprise to many who witnessed her vigor and untiring energy if we should whisper how many years have helped to whiten her snowy head. Though for years a public speaker in this cause, so dear to her mother-heart, she is a modest, home-loving, truly feminine woman, and enjoys a chat, with other capable house keepers, on all the important subjects of cake and pickles, dainties, dresses and hats, and spring cleaning.

Sunday afternoon the large auditorium of the Baptist church was filled with children and young people, and a goodly sprinkling of older ones. (It may not be amiss right here to mention in parenthesis, that three years ago not a church in Manning was open to a small audience in the Institute Hall).

A number of sweet hymns were sung and after scripture reading and prayer by Rev. Jno. C. Conger, Mrs. Bullock talked on the subject of Seed Sowing and the unchangeable law of the Harvest. "What ye sow, that shall ye reap" whether good or evil; she also gave by request an impressive object lesson of the amount expended in the United States during the year 1903 for drink, public education, tobacco, chewing gum, salaries of Protestant Ministers, and foreign missions. After stating the amounts in millions of dollars, she said the mind could not comprehend millions, so she would demonstrate to the eye the ratio of each to the other. Unrolling a black ribbon which reached first across the platform and then down the aisle and into the vestibule, she held it up and said, "This represents one million dollars. Once, during a lecture, when the black ribbon was slowly creeping down the aisle a poor, half drunk fellow sprang to his feet and screamed, 'There's death, death, death, death in the cup! A gold colored ribbon, which did not get off the platform at all represented our boasted public school fund. A red one, which ambitiously followed the black across the platform and nearly half way down the aisle showed the amount chewed, smoked and dipped by our men and boys—and women, too, alas. A blue one, only six inches long, told the tale of how we took care of our preachers; the chewing gum was somewhat longer than the preachers' salaries, and a modest, retiring little ribbon of white, barely two inches long measured our love for the beach.

Monday night the lecture was in the Methodist church Rev. A. N. Brunson conducted the devotional exercises, and the Methodist choir furnished splendid music. We especially appreciated a beautiful vocal solo by Mrs. L. Wells. Both the other churches were closed and it was a large and attentive audience that hung on the words of the speaker, as she told of the degradation of women in the Old World through the drink habit, and showed how, though bad enough in our own country, we were blessed in comparison. She gave several instances of the power exerted by the W. C. T. U. for preventing evil, and promoting good legislation, one being the passage of the anti-bar maid bill in New York. It is impossible to give a worthy report of the lecture in a short article.

Monday afternoon a White Ribbon Reception was tendered the ladies of Manning at the home of Mrs. J. H. Sprout, a most charming affair. Mrs. Gough, Mrs. King, Mrs. S. M. Sprout, Miss Frances Davis, Julia Sprout and May Lesene assisted Mrs. Sprout in receiving. The parlors, hall and dining-room were tastefully decorated with growing plants and flowers and streamers of white. Soon after four o'clock the guests began to arrive, and from then till the lengthening shadows warned them that the day was closing, the large rooms were filled with a happy throng.

Dainty refreshments were served, and just before the breaking up Mrs. Bullock told the ladies something of the great work being done for her poor, outcast sisters by the Lady Henry Sumner of England, World's President. "You see, my friends, and also of the brave little Mrs. Libby of Georgia, with the help of the W. C. T. U. women secured the Governor's veto to the infamous dispensary bill and thus saved the State of Georgia from the disgrace of becoming a barkeepers' den."

As a result of Mrs. Bullock's star amongst us, the local Union was strengthened by the addition of twenty three names. The good done in the community by creating public sentiment against the sale and use of intoxicating liquor and enlarging our views, can not be measured.

Letter to S. J. Bowman.

Dear Sir: Father and son; one is glad, the other is sad. I Devoe, I feel. Mr. C. H. Devoe, I feel. Fair Haven, N. Y., painted his house Devoe three years ago; his father, same time, painted his house lead-and-ol. The father's house is all chalked-off; the son's is as good as new. They'll paint the same way next time. Yours truly, F. W. DEVOE & CO.

Summerton Farmers Endorse Immigration.

Three of the largest farmers and cotton planters of the Summerton section came over to Columbia yesterday, and expressed their influence for the preservation of the department of agriculture and immigration. They are Messrs. R. A. Sublett, J. D. Rutledge and O. C. Scarborough.

Mr. Scarborough, who is said to be the largest planter in his section, said yesterday that the department is the best thing that has been set on foot for the State in a long time and that its abolition would be a step backward. "I would like to get a lot of Scotch or German farm hands myself," said Mr. Scarborough. "Mr. E. A. Bultman of Sumter, who got several Scotch hands through Commissioner Watson, tells us that one Scotchman is worth about four negroes for work. There would be any trouble placing immigrants in our county and it would be a great mistake to stop Mr. Watson's fine work. The bureau is doing more to advertise South Carolina and promote its progress than any other agency that has ever been established."

The other gentlemen endorsed what Mr. Scarborough had to say. It is notable that these men should of their own accord come to the capital to protest against the bill now before the legislature.

In reference to the immigrants that have been placed with Mr. Bultman it may be well to state that he has expressed his entire satisfaction with them and they have sent back to Scotland for other members of their families, so pleased are they with South Carolina. Other Sumter men have also engaged immigrants on the showing made in Mr. Bultman's case.—The State, January 30.

Alcova Siftings.

Editor The Manning Times: Mr. J. P. Coleman, who has resided here for the last few years, has moved to Manning. We regret his departure, but hope for him much success in his new home.

Mr. W. C. Johnson and Mr. J. M. Plowden, of Summerton, spent yesterday in town. We are always delighted to see these young men. They have both held positions here in the past, but are now located at Summerton, where Mr. Johnson is running a merchandise business, while Mr. Plowden is general manager of the Summerton Hardware Co.

Mr. J. F. Pack has moved to Jordan, where he will be engaged as saw-filer for Young & Davis. His many friends hope for him much success in his new field of labor.

Mrs. R. J. Alderman, who has been visiting at Belton for the past week, returned home last night.

Miss Selden Epps, Brogdon, spent yesterday in town with her sister, Miss Lily Epps.

There was quite a lively time here last evening on arrival of the passenger train from Sumter. One of Mr. Shaw's hands who was working on the Moran Farms at Brogdon, and who is under contract, took a notion to go to Florida. Mr. Shaw, suspecting that he would be on the train, had several men on the lookout for him. Mr. Cuttino Bryan got hold on him as the train was leaving, but being unable to pull him off, fired several shots at him without effect. The negro was arrested at Manning and lodged in the guard house.

Mrs. D. L. Wells left last night to visit her parents at Lanes. PAT. ALCOLA, S. C., January 30, 1905.

For Thin Babies

Fat is of great account to a baby; that is why babies are fat. If your baby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby stores as fat what it does not need immediately for bone and muscle. Fat babies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; their fat is laid up for time of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When they are scrawny those nerves are hurt at every ungentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emulsion. It is as sweet as wholesome to them.

THE HAIR COMB.

It Was in Remote Times Used in Religious Ceremonies.

It would be curious to know what mystic meaning our forefathers attached to the simple act of combing the hair. We learn from old church records that the hair of the priest or bishop was combed several times during services by one of the inferior clergy, but what such a queer proceeding signified no one knows. The comb is also mentioned as one of the implements used during high mass, but only when sung by a bishop. Mass combs of the precious metals are still reckoned as the most valuable possessions of some European churches, though they are of no use in modern ceremonies. Besides the gold and silver combs, the poorer churches had those of ivory, iron, horn and even wood. Combs especially known to antiquarians are those of St. Neot, St. Dunstan and St. Malachias. That formerly belonging to St. Thomas, the martyr of Canterbury, is still kept in the church at Thetford; that of St. Cuthbert, "the woman hater," at Durham cathedral.

From sundry references in old legends to the use of the comb in divinations and from its appearance on rude sculptured stones in many of the old countries, it seems probable that it was a widely known pagan device and one that was highly venerated.—London Standard.

THE RAILROAD FIREMAN.

Building a Fire in a Locomotive Is Not an Easy Job.

The average citizen manages to set the house in an uproar every time he has to make a fire in the heater, but his job is a trifle in comparison with what a railroad fireman faces when a new fire has to be built in a locomotive. As a starter about 200 pounds of wood are necessary to fire up the old railroad engine. The wood used is old railroad ties cut into convenient blocks. When the fire box has been lined with wood it is drenched with oil, and the match is applied.

As soon as the fire gains headway forced draft is applied, the operation necessary being performed in the roundhouse, where all apparatus for quickly producing high temperature is at hand. When a good bed of blazing wood has been produced the fireman gets busy with his shovel, placing coal in even layers over the flames. This part of the work is hard on the back, and the aggrivated individual whose woe is evident to the whole block when he labors with the heater would go down and out in the first minute at it. Under the forced draft it is only a few minutes before the coal has been reduced to a sheet of embers at white heat, and by this time there is enough steam pressure generated to permit of the locomotive being moved under its own power.

Continuous resort to the shovel on the part of the fireman does the best. It is only about once a month that a new fire is built in a locomotive while in service. The balance of the time the fire is kept going by being banked when the iron horse is not on the road.—Philadelphia Record.
